

VEILUX®

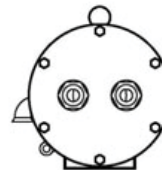

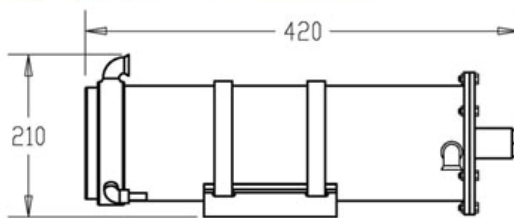

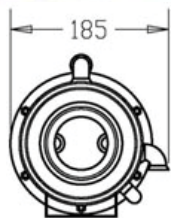

LIQUID COOLING DUSTPROOF HOUSING

SVEX-HSF

SVEX-HSF is a Water Cooling Camera Housing that is designed for special environments. This product can be used under dusty and high temperature conditions. The circulation of water pump from one of the connecting tube reduce the interior temperature and the air pressure pump from one of the front end tube help clean the housing window. The camera housing fits both fixed zoom camera and zoom lens which allows this housing to be use for different applications. The camera housing window is made with a strong tempered glass and the housing has an outdoor IP class of IP66. All materials use for this housing is made with stainless steel for great performance against corrosion and allows tight sealing. It is built with a double layer structure to allow cool running water inside. A drawer is design inside the camera housing to allow for easy maintenance. Tightened nuts are used in the back of the camera to secure the cable in place.
